British Girl Completes 9,900 Miles Solo Flight

IN HAZARDOUS TRIP, ENGLAND TO AUSTRALIA

FEW BESIDES HER FATHER AND MOTHER BELIEVED SHE WOULD REACH DARWIN

Darwin, Australia, May 24.—(U.P.)—Miss Amy Johnson, 22-year-old British flier, completed a hazardous 9,900-mile solo flight from England when she landed here safely at 3:57 P. M. today (12:27 A. M. C. S. 5.).

Miss Johnson failed to break the solo flight record of 15½ days made by Bert Hinkler three years ago, but in her trip across Europe, Asia and the Malay settlements she flew through storms and met with accidents which threatened at times to force her to return home in defeat.

Few besides her father, once a Klon-dyke gold prospector, and her mother believed she would reach Darwin when she took off from Croydon airport, London, in a little Moth plane on the morning of May 5.

Accidents largely were responsible for her failure to set a new record. She was two days ahead of Hinkler's schedule when she landed at Calcutta, but at her next landing, Rangoon, she broke the propeller, wheel, and one wing of her plane, and lost three days having them repaired.

Her flight across India, with stops at Allahabad and Calcutta, was almost unnoticed by the natives, pre-occupied with their independence campaign.

Miss Johnson reached Rangoon while Burma still was clearing away the debris from a disastrous earthquake which took more than a thousand lives at nearby Pegu. She flew from Rangoon to Bangkok, Siam, one of the most difficult stages. She was forced to fly blindly for several hours before crossing the mountains into Siam.

When she finally reached Semarang on May 20, it was found her plane needed additional repairs.

Miss Johnson, a native of Yorkshire, Eng., and the daughter of a Hull business man, graduated from Sheffield university with a bachelor of arts degree.

HOSPITAL EXTRACTS HOOK FROM GULL; BIRD FLIES AWAY

Milwaukee, Wis., May 24.—(U.P.)—There is a sea gull flying around somewhere over Lake Michigan today flapping its wings and bragging to its fellow gulls about his "operation."

Two small boys were fishing off the lake shore. The gull spied their bait and swallowed it, hook and all. The boys dragged in the bird, but could not remove the hook.

Anton Koenig, employe of St. Mary's hospital, was passing. He carried the gull to the hospital where Dr. Paul S. Epperson and Dr. William S. Tudley performed the strangest operation in the history of the institution. They gave the gull an anesthetic, removed the hook, and sewed up the incision.

The gull soon regained consciousness, wobbled about for a while, marched toward a window, and flew out over the lake.

SEARCH RANCH OF FORMER MOVIE STAR

Hollywood, Calif., May 24.—(U.P.)—Deputy sheriffs were sent today to the ranch of William S. Hart, former "two gun" man of the movies, following Hart's report that a man answering to the general description of the slayer of Robert Horton had appeared on the ranch.

Hart reported to the sheriff's office that he covered the prowl with a rifle as the man left the Hart residence.

The former movie hero said his sister heard a rap on the door but instead of opening it, she spoke to the man through a wicket.

The stranger asked for "Joe" and Miss Hart reported that there was no one of that name in the house.

The man then went to a window of the room occupied by Miss M. Lyns, a nurse in attendance on Hart, who recently had his tonsils removed.

Hart's description of the man led deputy sheriffs to believe the prowl was the man who shot and killed Horton, an aged rancher, in Mint canyon last Sunday.

PARTIAL STRIKE IS OBSERVED IN BOMBAY

NATIONAL CONGRESS VOLUNTEERS PREPARE TO STAGE HUGE DEMONSTRATION

PROTEST AGAINST BRITISH ACTION SENDING TROOPS TO DHARASANA SALT AREA

By FRANCIS LOW (United Press Staff Correspondent)

Bombay, May 24.—A partial strike was observed in Bombay today as national congress volunteers prepared to stage another huge demonstration in protest against the British government's action in sending troops to Dharasana.

The customary daily raid on the Wadala salt works, near Bombay, was abandoned today, but congress leaders said they expected to make a mass raid on the works tomorrow, similar to the raid made there last Sunday.

The raid tomorrow, however, may not be so good natured as the previous one. The passive resistance campaign has shown stronger tendencies to use force during the week than at any time since the independence drive started, and there were some fears that they may forget Mahatma Gandhi's teachings when they descend on the big salt works.

In addition, their post-leader, Mrs. Sarajini Naidu, now is serving a prison sentence as a result of her part in the raid on the Dharasana works last Wednesday, when many volunteers were injured. Mrs. Naidu was sentenced to nine months' simple imprisonment.

Reports of the activities of Gandhi's followers, received here today from rural sections of India, said the social boycott of officials loyal to the British government was being intensified, particularly in the Surat and Kaira districts. It was in the former district that Gandhi was arrested three weeks ago.

The landlords at Jalapur, Navasari and Bardoli have been induced, the reports said, not to rent accommodations to any official, and also not to supply drinking water or food to them. Passive resistance volunteers in the Gujarat district, where Gandhi had most of his activities, were concentrating today on picketing liquor and foreign cloth shops.

The same court which sentenced Mrs. Naidu to nine months' imprisonment also sentenced Gandhi's son, Manilal Gandhi, and his secretary, Piyarelal, to a year's rigorous imprisonment each, and Imam Sahed, another Satyagraha prisoner, to six months.

Mrs. Naidu was allowed to make a statement to the court before she was taken to prison, in which she said:

"I am glad the government has, however unintentionally, done such a wonderful piece of propaganda on behalf of our cause by my arrest and prosecution."

"Had the police violence continued I should certainly have violated the decision of the war council and should have participated in the struggle, sharing danger, even death, at the side of my comrades. But I was arrested before I could carry out my intention."

FRONTIER SCOUT IS HOMESICK

"ARAPAHOE HARVE" FAUCETT WANTS TO GO BACK TO DEADWOOD, S. D.

Deadwood, S. D., May 24.—(U.P.)—"Arapahoe Harve" Faucett, frontier scout of 50 years ago, wants to come back to the lands he used to roam.

Mrs. Fred A. Wiggins, Toledo, O., wrote to Mayor F. S. Howe asking if her father could come back to Deadwood to spend a few days in the cabin of "Deadwood Dick" Clarke, who died several weeks ago and who was an acquaintance of Faucett's. Today the mayor gave his permission for the visitor to stay in the cabin which now is regarded as a historical shrine.

"Arapahoe Harve" was guide for 113 persons who came by wagon from Cheyenne to Deadwood in 1876. He was with General Cook during the same winter. Faucett and "Deadwood Dick" were companions in the posse that hunted the slayers of Brown and Charley Holland on Red Water. He was in Deadwood when Preacher Smith was killed.

ROBERT P. SCRIPPS PROTESTS AGAINST PRESS CENSORSHIP IN INDIA

The following article by Webb Miller, European news manager for the United Press, gives his eye-witness account of the Swarajist demonstration in Bombay yesterday in which 100,000 Indians participated, and other developments in the rebellion movement.

By WEBB MILLER (United Press Staff Correspondent) (World Copyright, 1930, by United Press)

Bombay, May 24.—Representatives of 50 Bombay mercantile associations at a mass meeting which followed the big demonstration here yesterday adopted a resolution urging a general boycott of British goods, demanding the release of Mahatma Gandhi, and urging the national congress not to participate in the round table conference in London next fall.

The resolution was significant because of the prominence of the groups taking part in the meeting. A millionaire merchant, J. D. Birla, presided at the meeting.

The national congress war council, at the same time, decided to follow up the demonstration yesterday with another today, in protest against the British action at Dharasana, where the volunteer camp was evacuated and military guards established.

The entire Indian press gave space to a dispatch recounting a protest in London by Robert P. Scripps, American newspaper publisher, against the press censorship in India.

In the course of a general attack on the method of censorship, the Indian Mail, organ of the Indian liberals, said:

"We are glad some representative of the people already is making a protest in England about the censorship. We are not surprised to learn it is an American newspaper group which raised the first distinct howl. What could be more absurd and humorous than Lord Burnham's reply?"

(Lord Burnham, a member of the Simon commission which last year completed an inquiry into India's readiness for self-government, replied to Scripps by saying a censorship was imposed for the sake of human lives. "It is right for a man to smoke a cigarette, but he cannot smoke in a

Minneapolis, May 24.—(U.P.)—Scheduled to have been married a week from today, Viola Schmidt, 25, today lay in General Hospital with a fractured skull while her fiancé, Norman Newton, was rushing here from Des Moines to be with her.

The demonstration yesterday afternoon was the largest, and was considered in some quarters the most critical since the passive resistance campaign started.

The situation arose when police attempted to halt a great procession organized by commercial organizations as a protest against the arrest of Gandhi. The procession was miles long.

Opposite the principal railway terminal in the heart of Bombay, and in front of the municipal building, a cordon of about 200 police was drawn across the square. About 50 of the police carried rifles, and a score of British sergeants were armed with revolvers.

The marchers, bearing dozens of nationalist flags and banners urging a boycott of British goods and attacking England, halted in front of the police and for the next four hours an unprecedented scene was enacted.

The unorganized mob surged about, yelled and shouted. Fearing a rush on the police, and consequent bloodshed, members of the all India volunteers corps, clad in their shorts and Gandhi caps, worked frantically to keep them back.

The situation grew more critical momentarily, and the congress volunteers had the utmost difficulty in preventing the milling mob from trying to break through the lines they drew up.

It was estimated that more than 100,000 persons jammed the wide streets in the square, overflowing into the side streets. A continuous roar went up as the mob moved about.

An attack on the police seemed imminent momentarily, but the volunteers, acting as police among their own crowds, succeeded in forcing them to sit down.

Amid terrific outbursts of cheering, the police finally withdrew last night. As they departed, the mob screamed, yelled and cheered—and then surged through the city.

DISCOVERS WHERE STOLEN CREAM WAS BEING SOLD IN FARIBAULT

Faribault, Minn., May 24.—(U.P.)—A sheriff who turned Sherlock Holmes to discover where stolen cream was being sold today resulted in the holding of Arthur W. Elftmann, butter-maker for five years at the Twin City Milk Producers Association station at Northfield on a charge of grand larceny in the second degree.

Sheriff Ernest W. Havreland conducted an investigation for several weeks of all creameries near Faribault to determine where allegedly stolen cream from the Northfield station was being sold. The sheriff found the creamery and then obtained the evidence against Elftmann.

Elftmann admitted he had been taking the association's cream and reselling it for nearly a year. He stated he began last June or July.

When arraigned in municipal court at Northfield he waived preliminary examination and was bound over to the district court in which he will probably be arraigned next week.

BISHOP CANNON RECORDS VICTORY

HE EMERGES FROM METHODIST CHURCH CONFERENCE FULLY VINDICATED

Dallas, Texas, May 24.—(U.P.)—Bishop James Cannon, Jr., subject of persistent attacks throughout the 21st quadrennial conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, emerged at the final session today with a complete victory over his critics.

The last effort to censure the Virginia prelate for his political and stock market activities failed last night when he was re-elected chairman of the Methodist Board of Temperance and Social Service. Prominent laymen, including Josephus Daniels of North Carolina, had opposed the action strenuously.

The conference, after disposing of a few last-minute committee reports, was scheduled to adjourn at noon, ending a meeting which had lasted three weeks.

Several very important decisions were made in the last days of the conference, foremost of which was that women should not be allowed to occupy pulpits.

SECOND GRAVEYARD SUICIDE RECORDED

St. Paul, May 24.—(U.P.)—The second graveyard suicide victim in 24 hours was disclosed today when E. E. Hoover, 65, contractor, was found lying atop his wife's grave with a bullet hole in his forehead. Hoover is said to have brooded over his wife's death a year and a half ago. Mrs. Elizabeth Skonberg, 55, was found dead on the grave of her husband in a second cemetery last night. She had taken a dose of carbolic acid.

SUPPORTED BY FRIENDS, SCORED BY ITS ENEMIES

SENATE TAKES UP MEASURE FOR CONSIDERATION MONDAY OR TUESDAY

PRESIDENT READY TO SIGN DEBENTURELESS BILL WITH FLEXIBLE CLAUSE

By PAUL R. MALLON (United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, May 24.—Supported with applause from its friends and roundly denounced by its enemies, the long disputed tariff bill, now in final form, emerged from a congressional conference today ready for consideration in the senate Monday or Tuesday.

President Hoover has sent word to his senatorial leaders that he is ready to sign the debentureless bill with its modified flexible clause, the United Press has learned on responsible authority. Majorities in both houses appear to be ready to pass it.

Although a few minor hitches have been encountered which may force its return to conference for changes in the cheese, watches, clocks and cherries rates, there is every prospect that within two weeks the measure will be written into the statutes of the land.

Statements obtained by the United Press from the various leaders of senatorial groups showed the following opinions:

Republican Floor Leader Watson: "It is as good a bill as we could get and we will pass it."

Senator Couzens, republican, Michigan, identified with neither conservative nor liberal groups: "I believe the bill generally meets the requirements laid down by President Hoover in his recommendations for depression due to foreign competition."

Senator Norris, republican, Nebraska, leader of the farm bloc: "The bill has lost its good points and gathered many bad ones since it passed the senate. It is a wicked piece of legislation which will add to the burdens of the people, in order that the people may understand what is in store for them."

Senator Pat Harrison, democrat, of Mississippi, a tariff leader of the minority: "The increased rates on sugar and building materials will cost the American people millions a year. While the majority apparently has the votes to pass it, there must be full debate before the vote."

Republican leaders are worried about reports that Senator Grundy, republican, Pennsylvania, called by democrats: "the father of the tariff bill," may return here from his unsuccessful fight for renomination to vote against the bill. He believes it does not give adequate protection to some industries.

It is said he may take along with him some other conservative republicans including Senator Metcalf, republican, Rhode Island, a farm bloc member, Senator Capper, republican, Kansas, also doubts whether the bill should pass.

As things now stand, it will take more changes than these to defeat the bill. The coalitionists doubt if Grundy would vote with them, and they are about ready to concede defeat.

Ratification of the London naval treaty before adjournment of congress became virtually certain today in the opinion of observers who interpreted President Hoover's special session announcement as an effective check upon the anti-treaty group.

"It is my understanding," Mr. Hoover announced, "that the advocates of the naval treaty are earnestly striving for action in the present session."

"If it proves impossible to complete it at the regular session, I shall call a special session of the senate immediately following the regular session to deal with the question."

"The leaders in the senate have been consulted and are in agreement with this program."

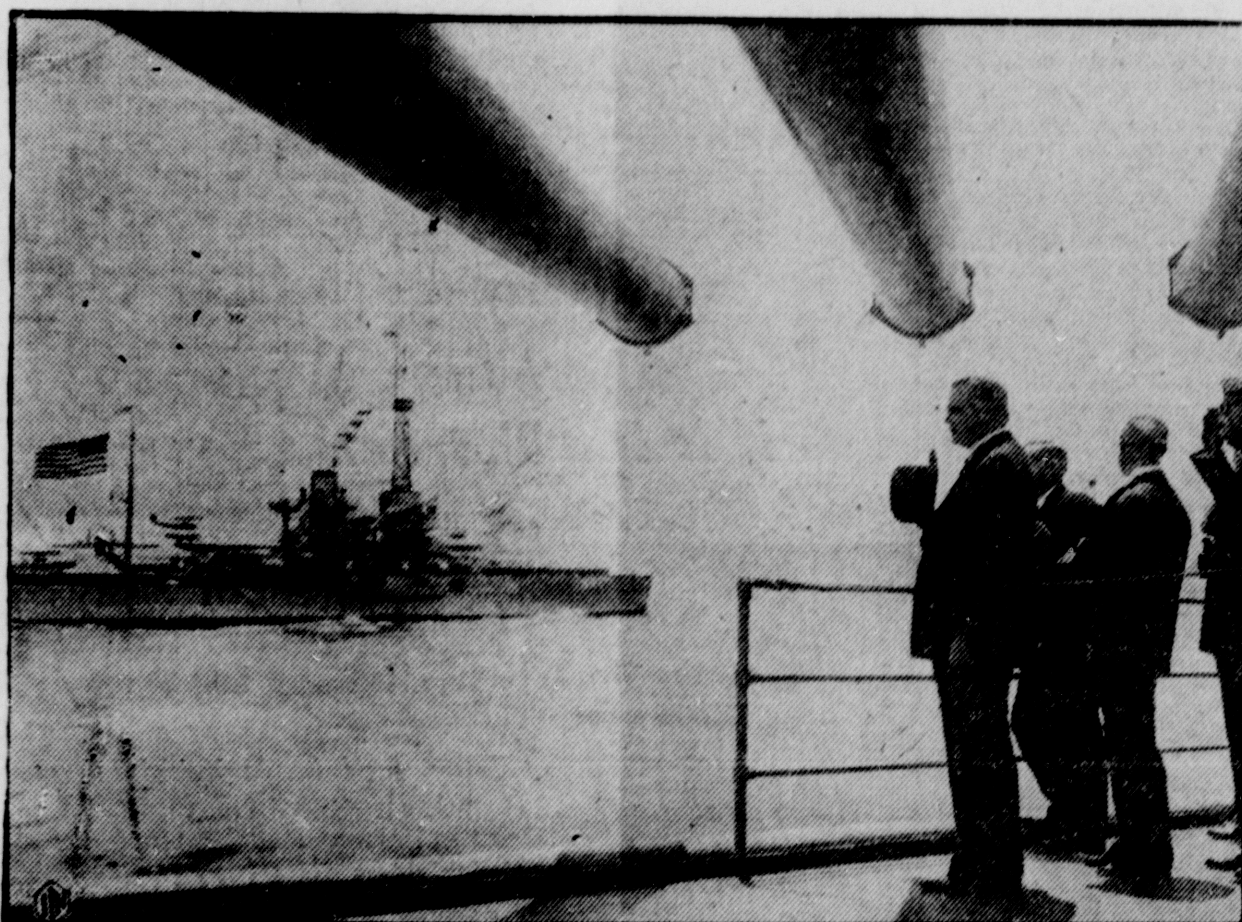

The president's announcement meets the requirements of Majority Leader Watson who is understood to have informed Mr. Hoover it would be almost impossible to hold a quorum of the senate in the capital more than a few days after consideration of the tariff and rivers and harbors bills. With the assurance of a special session summons if it adjourns without treaty action, the senate now has no incentive to delay a vote on the treaty.

Prospects of a congressional vote on the Philippine independence issue, long a subject of controversy in both domestic and international circles, were foreseen here today as the result of its sponsorship by Chairman Borah of the senate foreign affairs committee and other influential leaders.

The vote, if it is taken, is not expected until the short session beginning next December. The present legislative jam, in which the tariff and London naval treaty are formidable logs, precludes consideration of the Philippine question during the few remaining weeks of this session.

The independence issue was brought to the fore yesterday when the senate insular committee reported favorably on the Hawes-Cutting bill. This measure provides for gradually increasing economic autonomy and a plebiscite in the islands after five years to decide the independence question.

BISHOP CANNON RECORDS VICTORY

HE EMERGES FROM METHODIST CHURCH CONFERENCE FULLY VINDICATED

Dallas, Texas, May 24.—(U.P.)—Bishop James Cannon, Jr., subject of persistent attacks throughout the 21st quadrennial conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, emerged at the final session today with a complete victory over his critics.

The last effort to censure the Virginia prelate for his political and stock market activities failed last night when he was re-elected chairman of the Methodist Board of Temperance and Social Service. Prominent laymen, including Josephus Daniels of North Carolina, had opposed the action strenuously.

The conference, after disposing of a few last-minute committee reports, was scheduled to adjourn at noon, ending a meeting which had lasted three weeks.

Several very important decisions were made in the last days of the conference, foremost of which was that women should not be allowed to occupy pulpits.

SECOND GRAVEYARD SUICIDE RECORDED

Mrs. Elizabeth Skonberg, 55, was found dead on the grave of her husband in a second cemetery last night. She had taken a dose of carbolic acid.

SENATE TAKES UP MEASURE FOR CONSIDERATION MONDAY OR TUESDAY

PRESIDENT READY TO SIGN DEBENTURELESS BILL WITH FLEXIBLE CLAUSE

By PAUL R. MALLON (United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, May 24.—Supported with mild applause from its friends and roundly denounced by its enemies, the long disputed tariff bill, now in final form, emerged from a congressional conference today ready for consideration in the senate Monday or Tuesday.

President Hoover has sent word to his senatorial leaders that he is ready to sign the debentureless bill with its modified flexible clause, the United Press has learned on responsible authority. Majorities in both houses appear to be ready to pass it.

Although a few minor hitches have been encountered which may force its return to conference for changes in the cheese, watches, clocks and cherries rates, there is every prospect that within two weeks the measure will be written into the statutes of the land.

Statements obtained by the United Press from the various leaders of senatorial groups showed the following opinions:

Republican Floor Leader Watson: "It is as good a bill as we could get and we will pass it."

Senator Couzens, republican, Michigan, identified with neither conservative nor liberal groups: "I believe the bill generally meets the requirements laid down by President Hoover in his recommendations for depression due to foreign competition."

Senator Norris, republican, Nebraska, leader of the farm bloc: "The bill has lost its good points and gathered many bad ones since it passed the senate. It is a wicked piece of legislation which will add to the burdens of the people, in order that the people may understand what is in store for them."

Senator Pat Harrison, democrat, of Mississippi, a tariff leader of the minority: "The increased rates on sugar and building materials will cost the American people millions a year. While the majority apparently has the votes to pass it, there must be full debate before the vote."

Republican leaders are worried about reports that Senator Grundy, republican, Pennsylvania, called by democrats "the father of the tariff bill," may return here from his unsuccessful fight for renomination to vote against the bill. He believes it does not give adequate protection to some industries.

It is said he may take along with him some other conservative republicans including Senator Metcalf, republican, Rhode Island, a farm bloc member, Senator Capper, republican, Kansas, also doubts whether the bill should pass.

As things now stand, it will take more changes than these to defeat the bill. The coalitionists doubt if Grundy would vote with them, and they are about ready to concede defeat.

Ratification of the London naval treaty before adjournment of congress became virtually certain today in the opinion of observers who interpreted President Hoover's special session announcement as an effective check upon the anti-treaty group.

"It is my understanding," Mr. Hoover announced, "that the advocates of the naval treaty are earnestly striving for action in the present session."

"If it proves impossible to complete it at the regular session, I shall call a special session of the senate immediately following the regular session to deal with the question."

"The leaders in the senate have been consulted and are in agreement with this program."

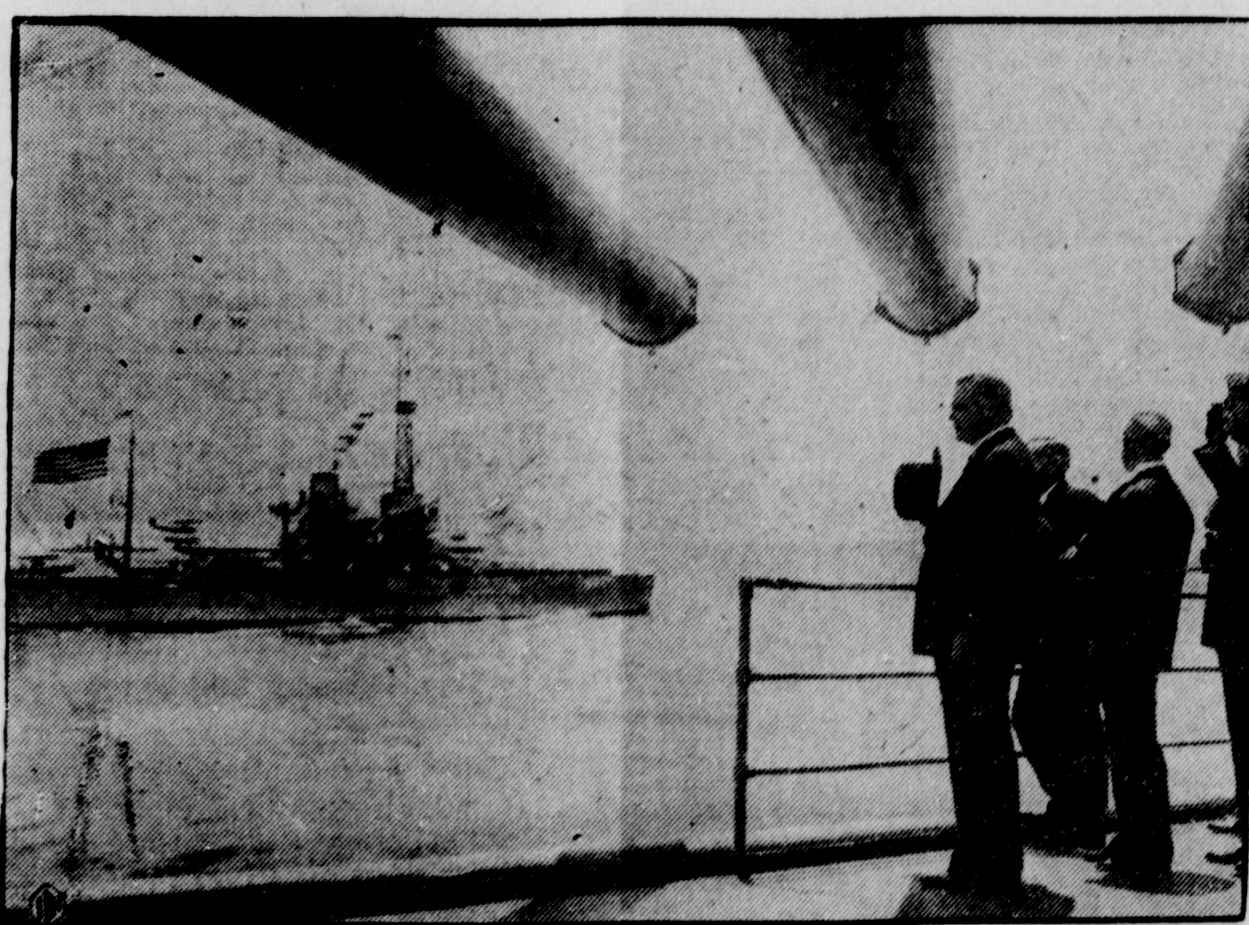

The president's announcement meets the requirements of Majority Leader Watson who is understood to have informed Mr. Hoover it would be almost impossible to hold a quorum of the senate in the capital more than a few days after consideration of the tariff and rivers and harbors bills. With the assurance of a special session summons if it adjourns without treaty action, the senate now has no incentive to delay a vote on the treaty.

Prospects of a congressional vote on the Philippine independence issue, long a subject of controversy in both domestic and international circles, were foreseen here today as the result of its sponsorship by Chairman Borah of the senate foreign affairs committee and other influential leaders.

The vote, if it is taken, is not expected until the short session beginning next December. The present legislative jam, in which the tariff and London naval treaty are formidable logs, precludes consideration of the Philippine question during the few remaining weeks of this session.

The independence issue was brought to the fore yesterday when the senate insular committee reported favorably on the Hawes-Cutting bill. This measure provides for gradually increasing economic autonomy and a plebiscite in the islands after five years to decide the independence question.

Crow Wing County Garden Flower Society in Timely Suggestions

Cutworms and How to Get Rid of Them

Many thousands of plants are severely damaged every spring by the ravages of the cutworm. Much of this damage can be prevented by the use of poisoned bait. The poisoned bait is mixed in the following manner: Take one gallon of wheat bran, into which put one-quarter pound of Paris Green, mixing them together thoroughly. Now, put a quarter pint of sorghum molasses into a quart fruit jar, add to it the juice of one lemon and enough warm water to fill the jar about 1-3 (one third) full. Put the cap on the jar and shake the contents well. Pour this mixture into the bran and Paris Green, stirring well with a stick. Add enough water to make it the consistency of thick mush.

The poisoned bait must not be applied until after sundown, nor sooner than one week after the ground has been spaded or plowed. (We must give the cutworms a chance to work up to the surface again). Squeeze the bran mixture into small lumps about the size of a walnut as you apply it and drop one lump every 6 to 8 feet apart. One or two applications will usually rid the entire garden. In the hardy border, three or four applications may be necessary and the bait should be placed closer together.

There will be no danger of birds or poultry being poisoned, as the worms cannot eat enough of the poison to injure the birds should they eat the worms. And the portion of bait remaining on the ground will soon dry up after sunrise and be unattractive to the birds and poultry. If you wish to take added precautions against this, place a piece of heavy paper over the bait.

The above amount is enough to treat about one-quarter acre and smaller amounts may be made as you wish.

Flowers for Shady Places

The following plants may be suggested for shady places:

Annuals: Sweet Alyssum, Snapdragon, California Poppy, Nicotiana (flowering tobacco) Petunia, Pansy, and Corn Flower.

Rubber Goods Not Molded

Contrary to what seems to be the quite common impression, rubber goods are not cast by pouring the melted material into molds. Instead the crude rubber is worked between steam-heated rolls and at the same time the sulphur and other ingredients are mixed in. The warm, plastic mixture is then molded and heated to vulcanize the rubber—that is, to cause the sulphur to combine with it.

Crow Wing County Garden Flower Society in Timely Suggestions

Cutworms and How to Get Rid of Them

Many thousands of plants are severely damaged every spring by the ravages of the cutworm. Much of this damage can be prevented by the use of poisoned bait. The poisoned bait is mixed in the following manner: Take one gallon of wheat bran, into which put one-quarter pound of Paris Green, mixing them together thoroughly. Now, put a quarter pint of sorghum molasses into a quart fruit jar, add to it the juice of one lemon and enough warm water to fill the jar about 1-3 (one third) full. Put the cap on the jar and shake the contents well. Pour this mixture into the bran and paris green, stirring well with a stick. Add enough water to make it the consistency of thick mush.

The poisoned bait must not be applied until after sundown, nor sooner than one week after the ground has been spaded or plowed. (We must give the cutworms a chance to work up to the surface again). Squeeze the bran mixture into small lumps about the size of a walnut as you apply it and drop one lump every 6 to 8 feet apart. One or two applications will usually rid the entire garden. In the hardy border, three or four applications may be necessary and the bait should be placed closer together.

There will be no danger of birds or poultry being poisoned, as the worms cannot eat enough of the poison to injure the birds should they eat the worms. And the portion of bait remaining on the ground will soon dry up after sunrise and be unattractive to the birds and poultry. If you wish to take added precautions against this, place a piece of heavy paper over the bait.

The above amount is enough to treat about one-quarter acre and smaller amounts may be made as you wish.

Flowers for Shady Places

The following plants may be suggested for shady places:

Gandhi Described

THE New York Herald gives a good word picture of Gandhi, the famous apostle of non-resistance and non-cooperation, who is now sitting in jail while the revolutionary movement in India is being carried out by his followers.

"A small-statured, crooked-legged man, homely of feature and almost black of complexion, Gandhi is as peculiar in appearance as his methods are original with him. He is barely five feet in height. His weight is ninety-odd pounds.

"He has great batlike ears at right-angles to their base, and a shaven skull of a shape that seems abnormal. His eyes are small and deep-set. His nose is unusually long.

"This strange figure in world affairs has long been accounted the greatest peril to British rule in India and to British prestige east of Suez that has arisen since the days of Warren Hastings or of Lord Clive.

"Gandhi, now 60 years old, comes from the coast town of Purbander, near Bombay. He married young, after the Hindu fashion, and went to England at 19 to study law. Of low caste, he was denied the privilege of intercourse with upper-class Englishmen. Apparently this experience colored his attitude toward England and the English during after years."

The four pictures published of Gandhi, giving his face at various angles, reveal shrewd, thinking eyes; large forehead and long nose; the large ears; heavy careworn lines in his forehead; large glasses perched low and worn like our judges who look over the tops for long distance views and use the glasses for close-up reading; hair cropped short looking as though a clipper had run over the top, but with no bald spots in evidence; a small mustache cut fairly short; large white teeth in evidence.

British physicians examined him before he was committed to jail and pronounced him thoroughly sound.

Tariff Effects

THE importance of a new or old or any tariff measure cannot be overestimated.

Its effect is far-reaching, covering industry and the well being of our people in many phases. Every article of clothing we use, shoes, hats, etc.; our groceries and other food products; material we build and repair our homes with; structural steel, etc., all is affected by some tariff provision.

Every citizen, every resident feels its effects. Whether one pays personal or realty taxes, or none of these taxes, one feels the effect of a tariff, for the ultimate consumer of any product pays the bill. The product in its final sale carries the tariff and all the other charges of industry and trade.

The arguments, the wrangling of Congress over this and that item may seem trivial to some people, but the end sought affects some industry, some area, and in consequence many people. It is a difficult matter to evolve a measure that will suit everybody, for conditions vary. The tariff, at best, in its many provisions is a compromise. In negotiating, legislators give and take.

Originally called to consider the farmers' plight, tariff revision has gone far afield and taken up industry in general. It remains to be seen if this generally revised tariff bill is to benefit the country as much as the present measure we are now operating under. The claim is made that the new bill will greatly benefit the farmer.

Brainerd Gets Nation-wide Advertising

LIBERTY MAGAZINE in its issue of May 31 calls attention to the fact that "Liberty Readers Travel," and in a page announcement declares that "to the sea, to the mountains, to the north woods and the lovely inland lakes, Liberty's readers are answering the lure of recreation. We know, because the demand for Liberty is again rising to an eager chorus at the nation's favorite vacation spots." And 2,400,000 persons are buying Liberty.

The magazine is handled by the Service News and E. W. Schmit pointed proudly to the heading, "Liberty's Circulation in Leading Summer Resorts," and there grouped with Bar Harbor, Maine; Concord, N. H.; Saratoga Springs, N. Y.; Newport, R. I.; Atlantic City, N. J.; Hot Springs, Ark.; Delavan, Wis.; Lake Geneva, Wis., and other noted eastern and western resorts was Brainerd, Minn., big as life with its seasonal and residential circulation and a 25 per cent increase.

Unemployment

BRITAIN for some years has faced acute phases of unemployment, especially in the mining industry and the dole system has been relied upon to keep a large part of the population from actual want. Learned commissions have studied the coal problem from all angles and sought a solution.

Japan just lately has been beset by depression in industry and it is claimed, according to government statistics as noted by the Tokio press, that the number of unemployed is computed as 310,000, but some journals even assert that the jobless army ranges from 800,000 to 1,000,000 and is steadily increasing.

A cut in wages by native spinning factories has been resented by the workers.

The Game of Fishing

FISH are where you find them. The other day a family started out with all the preparations according to Hoyle, fishing license, minnows, rods and reels, and that philosophic attitude, and didn't get a bite.

Next day three hopefuls from as many families, with poor equipment and no philosophy to speak of, motored in a flivver to another lake, rowed out to a fleet that had caught few, and in a few minutes each had pulled in two pike.

the center of the city, marching where they willed.

From the balcony of the Victoria Terminus I witnessed the demonstration—one of the most amazing scenes I ever saw.

One frenzied Swarajist tore his shirt and, taunting the police, cried: "Shoot me." Another circulated among the crowd making political exhortations and urging a boycott of the British. Others exhibited samples of the bread given prisoners in prison.

Great crowds had gathered in the streets behind the police, who were hemmed in—and thus, about 250 police were entirely shut off on both sides by thousands of howling persons.

One Swarajist moved about shouting to the spectators: "If you are prepared to die, stay—if not, go home!" A youthful volunteer laboriously climbed a tall statue in front of the municipal building and draped a nationalist flag from it, causing a great demonstration.

When the police suddenly withdrew and marched away, the mob instantly swarmed forward with a pandemonium of cheers, waving flags and banners reading: "Long live our king, Gandhi!"

British observers said it was the most serious incident since the arrest of Gandhi. The mob tied up the entire heart of this city of 1,250,000 persons for more than four hours.

BODIES OF TWO MINERS CAUGHT IN CAVEIN RECOVERED

Virginia, Minn., May 24.—(U.P.)—Bodies of two miners caught in the underground workings of the Lincoln mine of the Interstate Iron company were recovered today.

The men were John Jagar, 46, who is survived by his widow and seven children, and Joseph Barto, 55. Workers toiled throughout the night to recover Jagar's body which was found this morning. Barto was taken from the mine last night.

Officials of the mine attempted to prevent details of the accident from becoming public.

22,000 BUSHELS WHEAT SHIPPED BY RIVER BARGE

St. Paul, May 24.—(U.P.)—Twenty-two thousand bushels of wheat, the first 1930 bargeload of grain to be shipped on the Mississippi river, today was on its way to New Orleans.

Officials of the Farmers Union Terminal association estimated today that St. Paul shipments from the middle of August to the end of September would fill all available barges to capacity.

The estimate was based on present crop indications.

Sex Appeal Can't Be Hidden Under Muslin, Says Star

If a woman has sex appeal she can dress any way she chooses and her "It" will still shine through.

This is the conviction of Dorothy Mackaill, First National's blonde actress whose screen allure has won her many starring roles.

"If you have sex appeal," said Miss

Mackaill, "you can wear burlap or muslin and still keep that attraction."

The actress made these observations in connection with her role in "The Flirting Widow," the all-talking Vitaphone production showing at the Paramount theatre Sunday only, in which she wears mannish clothes and a masculine hair bob during much of the film.

Eugene Pallette, William Powell, E. H. Calvert in a scene from the Paramount Picture, "The Benson Murder Case"

"The Benson Murder Case," the third in the series of Paramount's all-talking Van Dine mysteries, with William Powell again creating the role of that master criminologist, Philo Vance, will be shown at the Paramount tonight only. Considered by many to be the most unusual of all Philo Vance stories, because of its presence of this famous amateur

Nearly every star and featured player under contract to Paramount has a prominent part in this company's widely heralded party of the stars, "Paramount On Parade," which will be presented at the Paramount Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. And according to those who have seen this picture at a special preview in New York, each member of the cast does what he or she can do best. From the opening scene which presents Jack Oakie, Skeets Gallagher and Leon Errol singing a hilarious introductory song, to the beautiful, eye-filling Technicolor finale featuring Maurice Chevalier in a song sequence called "Chasing the Clouds Away," this latest Paramount picture reveals the screen's most popular stars in intimate, thumby, thoroughly delightful rounds of uproarious comedy, clever satires and scores of song and dance sequences. Maurice Chevalier, in addition to introducing two new song hits, is featured in a rare burlesque on the origin of the Apache dance. In this number he is ably assisted by Evelyn Brent. This Apache number, it can be said in advance, is definitely different from anything of its kind ever presented on any stage. Many in the pre-view audience thought it one of the funniest numbers of the show. Another excellent sequence features the eight year old Mitzie Green who, unabashed by her illustrious company, comes near to stealing the show in her clever impersonation of Charley Mack, the "dangling" Block Crow, as he would sing Maurice Chevalier's song, "All I Want Is Just One Girl."

Fergusons Lay Plans for Political Comeback

Austin, Tex., May 24.—(U.P.)—The James E. Fergusons, familiarly known to their friends as "Pa" and "Ma" when they occupied the Texas gubernatorial mansion, laid their plans today for a political comeback which would place "Ma" at the head of the state government again.

The Texas supreme court decided yesterday that "Pa" Ferguson, who had announced his candidacy for the democratic nomination, could not run for the office of governor. The amnesty act which restored his right to hold office was ruled invalid.

So Mrs. Ferguson is going to take his place in the race and, with her husband's aid, make a valiant effort to put the family back in the executive mansion—the same house in which she made jellies and canned fruit while she was governor back in 1924.

Maurice Chevalier, in addition to introducing two new song hits, is featured in a rare burlesque on the origin of the Apache dance. In this number he is ably assisted by Evelyn Brent. This Apache number, it can be said in advance, is definitely different from anything of its kind ever presented on any stage. Many in the pre-view audience thought it one of the funniest numbers of the show. Another excellent sequence features the eight year old Mitzi Green who, unabashed by her illustrious company, comes near to stealing the show in her clever impersonation of Charley Mack, the "dawning" Block Crow, as he would sing Maurice Chevalier's song, "All I Want Is Just One Girl."

SIMPSON AFTER WORLD'S RECORD IN CENTURY DASHES

IS AFTER MARKS IN 100 AND 200 YARD SPRINTS

THE GREAT ATHLETE WILL RUN WITHOUT STARTING BLOCKS FORMERLY USED

PLANS TO RUN TODAY FROM THE HOLES IN THE TWO BIG EVENTS

By BERT DEMBY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Evanston, Ill., May 24. — George Simpson of Ohio State was out to establish himself officially as the world's fastest sprinter when the best track and field athletes of the western conference opened competition in the final events of the annual Big Ten outdoor championships at Dyche Stadium, Northwestern University today.

Without the starting blocks which caused his previous world records to be disallowed, Simpson planned to run from the holes in the 100 and 220-yard events. He virtually was conceded victory in both events.

Simpson's chief rival was Eddie Tolan, fleet Michigan negro whose time of :09.5 in the century recently was recognized by the International Amateur Athletic Federation as a world's record. The federation rejected Simpson's time of :09.4 because he used starting blocks.

The performances of the Ohio State star in the championship trials yesterday was the feature of the day. Running against a rain, he negotiated the 220 in 21 seconds, a second above the present record, and the 100 in :09.7.

Unfavorable weather conditions held down the times in the other track events in the preliminaries, but a fast track and better weather was promised today.

In the team competition during the trials, three teams—Michigan, Illinois and Iowa—qualified fifteen men to tie

MAX SCHMELING TAKES ANOTHER DAY OFF AT GOLF

Endicott, N. Y., May 24.—(U.P.)—Although his bout with Jack Sharkey for the world's heavyweight championship is less than three weeks away, Max Schmeling took another holiday yesterday, confining his activities to a round of golf. Max Machon, his trainer, said, however, that he will be in perfect condition for the match.

Orangeburg, N. Y., May 24.—(U.P.)—Benjamin Cucoschay, Jack Sharkey's father, has seen his son in the ring and now plans to attend the Sharkey-Schmeling bout at Yankee stadium, June 12.

"I never realized how big or how fast Paul (Sharkey's given name) was," Cucoschay said. "I'm certain he'll win the title."

Sharkey boxed six rounds with Johnny Grosso, Paul Cavalier and King Solomon yesterday.

for first place. The other teams were to start the finals today with the following number of qualifiers: Ohio State, 13; Wisconsin, 11; Chicago, 6; Northwestern, 5; Minnesota, 4; Indiana, 3, and Purdue, 3.

Michigan presented perhaps the strongest line-up in the trial and was favored slightly for the championship. The well balanced Wolverine team placed two men in seven events in which trials were held and one man in the broad jump.

The events in which trials were held yesterday were the hammer throw, javelin throw, shot put, discus throw, broad jump, 220 yard hurdles, 120-yard hurdles, 220-yard dash, half-mile run, 100-yard dash and 440-yard dash. Finals in these events and both preliminaries and trials in the other events were scheduled today.

YANKEES AND ATHLETICS MEET IN DOUBLE-HEADER

3RD DOUBLE-HEADER OF SERIES WHICH IS REVISING BATTING HISTORY IN MAJORS

YANKEES ARE NOW IN 3RD POSITION IN AMERICAN LEAGUE STANDINGS

(By United Press)

Additional home run records were in prospect today as the New York Yankees and Philadelphia Athletics met in the third successive double-header of a series which already has forced almost complete revision of home run history.

Eabe Ruth, Lou Gehrig and their mates bombarded Athletics' pitchers for two victories as well as numerous clouting marks, and the Yanks are now in third place in the American League standings.

The St. Louis Browns gave the Yanks third place by defeating Cleveland, 5 to 4, in Friday's only American League game. Walter Stewart held the Indians to nine scattered hits.

Brooklyn's Robins gained a tie for first place in the National League, defeating Boston, 6 to 3.

The Cards and Robins now are tied for first with Pittsburgh in third place, a game behind, and the New York Giants and Chicago Cubs in a virtual tie for fourth, 2-1-2 games behind.

The Pirates defeated the Chicago Cubs, 7 to 6, yesterday.

AL SINGER WINS 10 ROUND BOUT OVER FERNANDEZ

New York, May 24.—(U.P.)—Al Singer, plucky little Bronx fighter, settled a little affair with Ignacio Fernandez at Madison Square Garden last night and at the same time cleared the way for his championship fight with Sammy Mandell here July 17.

Singer won an easy 10-round decision over Fernandez and at times was so anxious to revenge a three-round knockout from the Filipino that he missed several chances for a knockout. Fernandez did not win a round.

TWO RECORDS WERE SMASHED, FIVE EQUALLED

THURSDAY'S HOME RUN HIPPODROME PRODUCED 26 HOME RUNS

BABE RUTH CONTINUES GREATEST STREAK OF HOME RUN HITTING OF ALL TIME

By GEORGE KIRKKEY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

New York, May 24.—Home run history had to be re-written today to include the biggest outburst of four-base hits in major league annals.

Two records were smashed and five equalled in Thursday's home run hippodrome which produced 26 home runs, and saw Babe Ruth continue the greatest streak of home run hitting of all time.

Hitting six home runs in two days, Babe Ruth went into a deadlock with Hack Wilson of the Chicago Cubs for the major league home run lead, each with twelve, and passed his 1927 schedule when he set his mark of 60 homers in one season. Ruth is now six days ahead of his 1927 schedule, when he did not get No. 12 in 1927 until May 28.

Ruth set one record and tied one in the two double-headers between the New York Yankees and Philadelphia Athletics at Shibe Park, Wednesday and Thursday.

Ruth hit six home runs in two days (new record).

Ruth hit six home runs in four consecutive games (equals record).

Ruth hit five home runs in three consecutive games (equals record).

The other new major league record set Thursday was 26 home runs for all clubs in both leagues in one day, breaking the former mark of 23 made in sixteen games (eight double-headers) on July 4, 1925. The new record was made in only seven games, as three games Thursday were without home runs.

Three other records were tied Thursday as follows:

15 home runs for one league in one day.

10 home runs for both clubs in one game.

3 home runs by Lou Gehrig in one game.

There were 15 home runs hit in the American League Thursday, fourteen of them in the two games between the Yankees and Athletics, four in the first game and ten in the second. The Yankees made nine and the Athletics five in both games, each getting five in the second game.

It was the second time Lou Gehrig had made three home runs in one game, having accomplished the feat the first time on June 23, 1927.

Ruth's two-day record follows:

First game—3 home runs.

Second game—none.

Thursday—

First game—2 home runs.

Second game—1 home run.

Ruth's six homers cost the Yankees $346.28 each on the basis of his wage of $519.42 per game or $80,000 a season. Ruth's wage for playing the two double-headers amounted to $2,077.68.

The 26 home runs Thursday were made by the following players:

American League (15)—Ruth (3), Gehrig (3), Fox (2), Pippas, Lazzeri, Chapman, Simmons, Dykes, Jolley, Bishop.

National League (11)—Hurt, O'Doul, Klein, Lench, Ott, Lindstrom, Hornby, Hartnett, Suhr, Hellmann, Wright.

Is This a System?

By HARDIN BURNLEY

HAVING been soundly walloped almost all along the line at football last Fall, the East is girding its loins and gritting its teeth—determined to "get even on" the West at the Poughkeepsie regatta, June 26, at the annual Interstate Amateur Athletic Association games and track meet at Cambridge, Mass., and at the other big contests of a similar nature that will be held during the next six months. The East is to expose as both a fable and a reality the not uncommon belief that the West wins five out of six inter-sectional contests.

There is still considerable confusion as to what constitutes East and West in the U. S. sports sense. Some naturally hold that the Mississippi River is the dividing line.

Of course, years of tradition would make it seem that all is labeled West beyond and including Pittsburgh. To this day, most people still consider Wisconsin, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, etc., as representing the West; thus leaving only the Atlantic seaboard States to constitute the East. That's certainly a weirdly unfair division, geographically or sportively. The idea must go back even farther than Walter Camp's All-American football selections. That conception of East and West must have originated in Revolutionary War times and been propagated by the forty-niners. To the Sport Bug, the of Mississipp would seem to be the fair boundary line.

However, with Washington aroused by its two-mile race victory over the University of California crew, and both entered in the Poughkeepsie regatta, Columbia, Syracuse and Penn will certainly have to bend to oars for the East.

And Barney Berlinger, death-on-ideal, with his fellow Penn stalwarts, a sprinkling of Yale stars, and others from Eastern colleges will have to be at their best to take the field and track measure of a host of huskies and swiftness from Southern California and other Pacific Coast universities in the intercollegiate.

To paraphrase of Kip: "East is East and West is West and SURE the twain 'll meet!"

There Are Softer Jobs

By HARDIN BURNLEY

BOSTON is no baseball paradise from any big league angle, but it might become that if either the Braves or the Red Sox, or both, achieved the miracle of becoming actual pennant contenders. Not since 1916, when the Sox came through for the second time in succession, has the Hub had a pennant. The last flag won by the Braves was in 1914 when they went from last place in midseason to the top, and then secured the World Series in four straight games from the Athletics. Both Boston teams have been in a doldrum of steady failure since. Managers and players have been tossed aside like old shoes. And now—

It is up to wise old Bill McKechnie to produce with the Braves, while the smart Heinie Wagner has the same problem with the Red Sox. Both have tackled their jobs with characteristic vim.

The Braves' latest pilot has a wealth of managerial experience. He developed pennant winners for the Cards at St. Louis and the Pirates at Pittsburgh, but was let go in each instance after his teams had flopped in the World Series. He starts as near to scratch as possible with the Braves and should they land in the first division, it will be a monumental achievement—if not a miracle—to McKechnie's credit.

McKechnie was quick to grab the famous Burleigh Grimes when Barney Dreyfuss refused to pay that veteran pitcher more than $18,000 this season. The critics think Grimes will add much to the Braves' strength as the schedule progresses. "Mac" is also displaying a brilliant outfielder in Walter

PENNEYS CHALK UP 6TH STRAIGHT, BEAT MESCHKE'S

LOOSE FIELDING AND WILDNESS
BY GROCERS CONTRIBUTE TO THEIR DEFEAT

PENNEY'S MEET ST. PAUL PARK-
WAY CLUB HERE SUNDAY
AT 2:30 P. M.

The J. C. Penney Co. chalked up their sixth straight victory in the city diamondball league last evening when they swamped Meschke's Grocery 27 to 15. Loose fielding and wildness on the part of Meschke's pitchers enabled the Penney Co. to run up a large score. Heikkinen and Johnson were on the mound for the losers and walked thirteen men, six of these passes coming in the second inning, and they allowed but ten hits. Werner hurled for the winners and allowed twelve hits, five of which came in the seventh inning and he passed but two men. J. C. Penney Co. scored two runs in the first inning when Aro walked, Orth doubled to score Aro and crossed the plate on Rafodil's sacrifice. In the second inning Penneys added nine more runs when Swanson, Orth, Werner walked in succession and all scored when Aro doubled. C. Orth and Laitala were safe on errors, E. Gabiou, Rafodil, J. Gabiou, and Beck received passes in a row which netted five runs.

Meschke's broke into the scoring column in the third inning when E. Heikkinen singled, Lunde walked, Schwendeman tripled to score Heikkinen and Lunde. J. Heikkinen sent Schwendeman home with a double and scored when Meschke was safe at first on an error. Penneys added a run to their total in their half of the third when Werner doubled and scored on two errors.

Penney scored seven runs in the fourth when E. Gabiou doubled, Rafodil walked, J. Gabiou was safe on an error, and they all scored on Beck's long single. Swanson and Orth drew passes and both tallied on Werner's double. Orth scored Werner on a two base hit and scored on Orth's second hit, and crossed the plate on Laitala's sacrifice. Meschke's scored a run in the fourth when G. Erickson doubled and tallied on E. Heikkinen's hit.

J. C. Penney Co. continued their scoring spree in the fifth when Swanson and G. Orth drew passes and counted on Werner's second double and he scored when Aro was safe on an error. C. Orth received life on an error and E. Gabiou cleaned the paths with a double, and scored on J. Gabiou's two-base bingle.

In the sixth Meschke's scored another run when E. Erickson doubled and dented the plate on a sacrifice hit.

Penneys tallied two runs in the 7th when Aro and Laitala doubled and scored when Rafodil was safe on an error. Meschke's scored seven runs in their half of the seventh, Schwendeman singled, J. Heikkinen doubled to score Schwendeman and tallied on S. Erickson's single. Fogelstrom and E. Erickson doubled which counted two more runs. W. Heikkinen walked and scored on G. Erickson's two-base hit. E. Heikkinen scored W. Heikkinen with a two-bagger and tallied on a sacrifice hit.

The line-ups follow:
Penneys—Rafodil, c; Werner, p; E. Gabiou, 1b; Swanson, ss; Laitala, ss; J. Gabiou, 2b; Orth, 3b; Aro, lf; Orth, cf; Beck, rf.

WORLD'S RECORD IN 100 YARD DASH BROKEN TODAY

Lincoln, Neb., May 24.—(UP)—The world's record in the 100-yard dash was broken unofficially here this afternoon by Hubert Meier, of Iowa State, competing in the Big Six track and field meet.

Meier, however, used starting blocks in making his fast time of 9.4 seconds in the century run.

Eddie Tolan of Michigan is now holder of the world's record for the 100, having run it in 9.5 seconds without starting blocks.

Meier's time sets a new Big Six record, which formerly was 9.6 seconds made by Roland Locke, Nebraska, in 1926.

ADMITTED HE STOLE TO PAY HIS BILLS

Balsam Lake, Wis., May 24.—(UP)—Admitting that he stole to pay his bills when he stole his "nerve" by drinking, Elmer Tonfeldt, 24, was held in jail today in default of $5,000 bail.

Pleading not guilty when arraigned yesterday, Tonfeldt was ordered held for trial on June 10 on charges of robbing the Lewis State bank of $800 on May 17. He was arrested a few hours after the robbery, which was the second at the bank within the past few months.

Defense and prosecution attorneys argued over the relative responsibility of the man for his actions while drunk.

The J. C. Penney Co. chalked up their sixth straight victory in the city diamondball league last evening when they swamped Meschke's Grocery 27 to 15. Loose fielding and wildness on the part of Meschke's pitchers enabled the Penney Co. to run up a large score. Heikkinen and Johnson were on the mound for the losers and walked thirteen men, six of these passes coming in the second inning, and they allowed but ten hits. Werner hurled for the winners and allowed twelve hits, five of which came in the seventh inning and he passed but two men.

J. C. Penney Co. scored two runs in the first inning when Aro walked, Orth doubled to score Aro and crossed the plate on Rafodil's sacrifice. In the second inning Penneys added nine more runs when Swanson, Orth, Werner walked in succession and all scored when Aro doubled. C. Orth and Laftala were safe on errors, E. Gabiou, Rafodil, J. Gabiou, and Beck received passes in a row which netted five runs.

Meschke's broke into the scoring column in the third inning when E. Heikkinen singled, Lunde walked, Schwendeman tripled to score Heikkinen and Lunde. J. Heikkinen sent Schwendeman home with a double and scored when Meschke was safe at first on an error. Penneys added a run to their total in their half of the third when Werner doubled and scored on two errors.

Penney scored seven runs in the fourth when E. Gabiou doubled, Rafodil walked, J. Gabiou was safe on an error, and they all scored on Beck's long single. Swanson and Orth drew passes and both tallied on Werner's double. Orth scored Werner on a two base hit and scored on Orth's second hit, and crossed the plate on Laftala's sacrifice. Meschke's scored a run in the fourth when C. Erickson doubled and tallied on E. Heikkinen's hit.

J. C. Penney Co. continued their scoring spree in the fifth when Swanson and G. Orth drew passes and counted on Werner's second double and he scored when Aro was safe on an error. C. Orth received life on an error and E. Gabiou cleaned the paths with a double, and scored on J. Gabiou's two-base bingle.

In the sixth Meschke's scored another run when E. Erickson doubled and dented the plate on a sacrifice hit. Penneys tallied two runs in the 7th when Aro and Laftala doubled and scored when Rafodil was safe on an error. Meschke's scored seven runs in their half of the seventh. Schwendeman singled, J. Heikkinen doubled to score Schwendeman and tallied on S. Erickson's single. Fogelstrom and B. Erickson doubled which counted two more runs. W. Heikkinen walked and scored on G. ## WORLD'S RECORD IN 100 YARD DASH BROKEN TODAY

Lincoln, Neb., May 24.—(UP)—The world's record in the 100-yard dash was broken unofficially here this afternoon by Hubert Meier, of Iowa State, competing in the Big Six track and field meet.

Meier, however, used starting blocks in making his fast time of 9.4 seconds in the century run.

Eddie Tolan of Michigan is now holder of the world's record for the 100, having run it in 9.5 seconds without starting blocks.

Meier's time sets a new Big Six record, which formerly was 9.6 seconds made by Roland Locke, Nebraska, in 1926.

ADMITTED HE STOLE TO PAY HIS BILLS

Balsam Lake, Wis., May 24.—(UP)—Admitting that he stole to pay his bills when he stole his "nerve" by drinking, Elmer Tonfeldt, 24, was held in jail today in default of $5,000 bail.

Pleading not guilty when arraigned yesterday, Tonfeldt was ordered held for trial on June 10 on charges of robbing the Lewis State bank of $800 on May 17. He was arrested a few hours after the robbery, which was the second at the bank within the past few months.

Defense and prosecution attorneys argued over the relative responsibility of the man for his actions while drunk.

SAUGE GUILTY AS INDICTED

Expressionless as Jury Returns Verdict of Guilty of First Degree Manslaughter

CARRIES FIVE TO 20 YEARS
Establishes Iron-ton Miner as Man Who Mortally Stabbed Woman March 27

Maintaining that same composure that has marked his appearance throughout the entire trial, Ole Sauge, Iron-ton miner heard without emotion or facial expression a jury return a verdict of guilty of first degree manslaughter against him last evening in district court.

Sauge, by the jury's decision, was stamped as the person who caused the death of Mrs. Wm. Zolrow, mother of seven children, by inflicting a mortal wound to her leg with a knife.

Mrs. Zolrow, the testimony revealed, was stabbed by Sauge after she had left a car in which two men had taken her and Opal Glen from the Glen home to the Johnson home in Iron-ton.

The attack took place in the yard of the Johnson home. When Sauge learned that Mrs. Zolrow was bleeding he took her into the woodshed and attempted to stop the flow of blood by using a piece of cloth. The woman died as a Crosby doctor arrived at the home. Her last moments were spent in the Johnson home.

The stabbing and subsequent death occurred during the early morning hours of March 27.

Testimony revealed that on the arrival of Mrs. Zolrow in the car at the Johnson home Zolrow was waiting for her and upbraided her.

The verdict was returned at 8:50 p. m. after the jury had deliberated since 12:15 p. m. the same day. It found the man guilty of the allegations made by the state against the defendant and as charged by the indictment.

The defense attorney, Elmer Kling, Little Falls, made a strong point of the state's inability to produce the knife alleged to have been used.

County Attorney Arthur J. Sullivan based his case on events of the evening as told by a large number of witnesses and presented a sworn statement of Sauge that he committed the act of striking Mrs. Kathryn Zolrow with a knife and that it was that wound that caused her death.

The defendant in testifying in his own behalf, being the only defense witness, disclaimed using a knife, stating that he did not know what he was doing or saying when the confession was made.

The case presented many dramatic situations in district court. For each session of the three day hearing the court room was filled to the doors with spectators, the majority being women.

Sauge will be sentenced by Judge E. F. Wright the early part of next week. The charge which he has been found guilty of carries a sentence of five to 20 years in the state prison. Sauge is 43 years old.

On April 4 the defendant Sauge moved the court to be allowed to enter a plea of guilty to manslaughter in the second degree. Judge M. E. Ryan denied the motion of Sauge's attorney and the jury's verdict affirms the judge's decision.

TRUNK HIGHWAYS ARE IMPROVED

There has been a general improvement in the trunk highways throughout the state in the last few days, according to the weekly road condition report issued by the Minnesota Highway department today. All of the routes are passable and the majority are fair to good.

With continued fair weather further improvement may be expected. The subgrade on many of the routes is still soft, however, and if it rains, some stretches may quickly become poor. In that event, motorists are advised to make local inquiries.

Ferry service will be started Saturday at Stillwater, to care for traffic while the interstate bridge is closed.

Some load restrictions have been lifted but some are still in effect. Some new detours have been added during the week. Condition of roads in the Brainerd Lake Region is as follows:

T. H. No. 2—Duluth, Brainerd, Wadena, Detroit Lakes and Moorhead—260 miles—Duluth, paved—Carlton, fair, (3 tons)—McGregor, fair, good—Atkin, good—Mottley, good, (2½ tons)—Wadena, good—Bluffton, good (3 tons)—Richdale, good—Hawley, paved—Moorhead.

T. H. No. 18—Elk River, Milaca and Brainerd—193 miles—Good.

T. H. No. 19—Brainerd, Walker and Cass Lake—93 miles—Brainerd, good—Pine River, detour, good—Backus, good—Cass Lake.

T. H. No. 27—St. Cloud, Little Falls and Brainerd—62 miles—Paved.

OLD FAVORITE SONGS
ON MAJESTIC HOUR

The favorite songs of bygone years—ballads and what may be termed the "Heart" songs of the world—will be revived by the Majestic entertainers when the Majestic Hour of June 8th is broadcast over the International network of the Columbia Broadcasting System from 9 to 10 P. M., E. D. S. T. Probably no form of music has more genuine entertainment value than the simple melodies that have shown an irresistible appeal to all persons gifted with a love for harmony. Strange as it may seem, the very simplicity of the old songs is a real test of an artist's ability. Many singers who achieve great acclaim through their renditions of operatic arias are completely lost when they are faced with the problem of bringing to an audience the lyric and melodic charm of an old-time song.

PLAN SUMMER LIFE SAVING PROGRAM

County Red Cross Calls Meeting to Discuss First Aid Work June 10

TO EXTEND TRAINING
Executive Committee Also to be Elected; More to Benefit by Instructions

Mrs. J. A. Thabes, chairman of the county chapter of the American Red Cross, has called a meeting for all Red Cross members in Crow Wing county for Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock June 10. The meeting will be held at the Chamber of Commerce rooms. The purpose of this meeting will be to elect the county executive committee and to make plans for the summer program in first aid and life saving.

While no accurate statistics are available upon the number of people saved from death by first aid or rescue from drowning, it is known to be a fact from countless stories carried by the press daily, that a large number of the fatalities could be prevented by the prompt employment of the simple approved Red Cross first aid and life saving methods. Last year 52,000 individuals successfully passed the first aid tests and 50,000 passed the life-saving tests in the United States.

The Red Cross could hardly hope to train a sufficient number of life savers and first aiders to be near the scene of every drowning or land accident. It can, however, through especially trained people, reach a great many through instruction. The well designed program contributes something lasting to the attitude of all classes of people toward water and land safety.

Last year this chapter gave life saving instruction and demonstrations on six lakes in Crow Wing county. These were Mille Lacs, Bay Lake, Pequot, Hubert, Gull, and Rice at Lum Park.

This year the chapter wants to extend its program to the best interests of the entire chapter area, in order that more children and adults can benefit from this instruction.

SAUGE GUILTY AS INDICTED

Expressionless as Jury Returns Verdict of Guilty of First Degree Manslaughter

CARRIES FIVE TO 20 YEARS

Establishes Ironton Miner as Man Who Mortally Stabbed Woman March 27

Maintaining that same composure that has marked his appearance throughout the entire trial, Ole Sauge, Ironton miner heard without emotion or facial expression a jury return a verdict of guilty of first degree manslaughter against him last evening in district court.

Sauge, by the jury's decision, was stamped as the person who caused the death of Mrs. Wm. Zadow, mother of seven children, by inflicting a mortal wound to her leg with a knife.

Mrs. Zadow, the testimony revealed, was stabbed by Sauge after she had left a car in which two men had taken her and Opal Glen from the Glen home to the Johnson home in Ironton.

The attack took place in the yard of the Johnson home. When Sauge learned that Mrs. Zadow was bleeding he took her into the woodshed and attempted to stop the flow of blood by using a piece of cloth. The woman died as a Crosby doctor arrived at the home. Her last moments were spent in the Johnson home.

The stabbing and subsequent death occurred during the early morning hours of March 27.

Testimony revealed that on the arrival of Mrs. Zadow in the car at the Johnson home, Zadow was waiting for her and upbraided her.

The verdict was returned at 8:50 p. m. after the jury had deliberated since 12:15 p. m. the same day. It found the man guilty of the allegations made by the state against the defendant and as charged by the indictment.

The defense attorney, Elmer Kling, Little Falls, made a strong point of the state's inability to produce the knife alleged to have been used.

County Attorney Arthur J. Sullivan based his case on events of the evening as told by a large number of witnesses and presented a sworn statement of Sauge that he committed the act of striking Mrs. Kathryn Zadow with a knife and that it was that wound that caused her death.

The defendant in testifying in his own behalf, being the only defense witness, disclaimed using a knife, stating that he did not know what he was doing or saying when the confession was made.

The case presented many dramatic situations in district court. For each session of the three day hearing the court room was filled to the doors with spectators, the majority being women.

Sauge will be sentenced by Judge E. F. Wright the early part of next week.

The charge which he has been found guilty of carries a sentence of five to 20 years in the state prison. Sauge is 43 years old.

On April 4 the defendant Sauge moved the court to be allowed to enter a plea of guilty to manslaughter in the second degree. Judge M. E. Ryan denied the motion of Sauge's attorney and the jury's verdict affirms the judge's decision.

TRUNK HIGHWAYS ARE IMPROVED

There has been a general improvement in the trunk highways throughout the state in the last few days, according to the weekly road condition report issued by the Minnesota Highway department today. All of the routes are passable and the majority are fair to good.

With continued fair weather further improvement may be expected. The subgrade on many of the routes is still soft, however, and if it rains some stretches may quickly become poor. In that event, motorists are advised to make local inquiries.

Ferry service will be started Saturday at Stillwater, to care for traffic while the interstate bridge is closed.

Some load restrictions have been lifted but some are still in effect. Some new detours have been added during the week. Condition of roads in the Brainerd Lake Region is as follows:

T. H. No. 2—Duluth, Brainerd, Wadena, Detroit Lakes and Moorhead—260 miles—Duluth, paved—Carlton, fair, (3 tons)—McGregor, fair, good—Aitkin, good—Mottley, good, (2½ tons)—Wadena, good—Bluffton, good (3 tons)—Richdale, good—Hawley, paved—Moorhead.

T. H. No. 18—Elk River, Milaca and Brainerd—103 miles—Good.

T. H. No. 19—Brainerd, Walker and Cass Lake—93 miles—Brainerd, good—Pine River, detour, good—Backus, good—Cass Lake.

T. H. No. 27—St. Cloud, Little Falls and Brainerd—62 miles—Paved.

OLD FAVORITE SONGS ON MAJESTIC HOUR

The favorite songs of bygone years—ballads and what may be termed the "Heart" songs of the world—will be revived by the Majestic entertainers when the Majestic Hour of June 8th is broadcast over the International network of the Columbia Broadcasting System from 9 to 10 P. M. E. D. S. T.

Probably no form of music has more genuine entertainment value than the simple melodies that have shown an irresistible appeal to all persons gifted with a love for harmony. Strange as it may seem, the very simplicity of the old songs is a real test of an artist's ability. Many singers who achieve great acclaim through their renditions of operatic arias are completely lost when they are faced with the problem of bringing to an audience the lyric and melodic charm of an old-time song.

PLAN SUMMER LIFE SAVING PROGRAM

County Red Cross Calls Meeting to Discuss First Aid Work June 10

TO EXTEND TRAINING

Executive Committee Also to be Elected; More to Benefit by Instructions

Mrs. J. A. Thabes, chairman of the county chapter of the American Red Cross, has called a meeting for all Red Cross members in Crow Wing county for Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock June 10. The meeting will be held at the Chamber of Commerce rooms. The purpose of this meeting will be to elect the county executive committee and to make plans for the summer program in first aid and life saving.

While no accurate statistics are available upon the number of people saved from death by first aid or rescue from drowning, it is known to be a fact from countless stories carried by the press daily, that a large number of the fatalities could be prevented by the prompt employment of the simple approved Red Cross first aid and life saving methods. Last year 52,000 individuals successfully passed the first aid tests and 50,000 passed the life-saving tests in the United States.

The Red Cross could hardly hope to train a sufficient number of life savers and first aiders to be near the scene of every drowning or land accident. It can, however, through especially trained people, reach a great many through instruction. The well designed program contributes something lasting to the attitude of all classes of people toward water and land safety.

Last year this chapter gave life saving instruction and demonstrations on six lakes in Crow Wing county. These were Mille Lacs, Bay Lake, Pequot, Hubert, Gull, and Rice at Lum Park.

This year the chapter wants to extend its program to the best interests of the entire chapter area, in order that more children and adults can benefit from this instruction.

COUNTRY CLUB LADIES TO MEET

Will Hold Session at Chamber of Commerce Rooms Monday Afternoon 2:30 O'clock

At Recent Election Mrs. Frank B. Johnson Was Named President of Organization

Ladies of the Brainerd Country club will meet Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the Chamber of Commerce rooms to discuss business matters of their organization and plan social activities for the summer. A large attendance is requested.

The many improvements made will do much to stimulate interest in the Country club, which under the direction of President George R. Trent, Sr., has a membership campaign under way.

As a local project, the club should receive every possible encouragement.

TELL OF FINDING OIL SOAKED WASTE

CHARLES EUE ON TRIAL

State Charges Him With Arson in Connection With Destruction of Home

Events of the night of January 9 when a fire swept the Charles Eue home, 208 Second avenue N. County Attorney Arthur J. Sullivan placed Fire Chief Frank Fuller, R. W. Crust, Dean White, and Edward Crust, members of the Brainerd fire department, on the stand this morning.

Each witness testified of seeing choked in a wall in the Eue home while fighting the fire waste from which they detected an odor of kerosene.

"SHEIK'S WIFE"

BY WINIFRED VAN DUZER

CHAPTER XXXIII.

EVE also neglected to see that Ken's work got out on time and, what with editors telephoning and writing hurry calls—even threatening to smash contracts—Ken grew nervous and irritable and took to drinking more cocktails than was good for him.

It was after one of these hurry calls from "Artistry," a high-class and high-priced magazine whose recognition Ken long had coveted and which he had played fast and loose with now that it had given him a chance, that Eve went searching frantically through his desk. He was illustrating a story for them and she knew about the drawings—oh, anything at all! Of course she wouldn't claim Revelations; she's not such a complete fool. "Smart youngster"—oh, my gosh!

Ken was dignified and superior. "Really, Eve, aren't you going rather far? It isn't like you, being jealous of someone else's success."

"Jealous?" she blazed. "Sure sounds that way. I suppose you know that artist's wife stuff is the sensation of the year. I heard at the Wade publications office the other day that they're bringing it out in book form as soon as it's finished running serially."

"And now Eve could only gasp 'Oh!' and wonder if this were true. What she had done did not seem remarkable to her, not nearly wonderful enough to cause so much interest. She had followed Barton Wade's suggestion and had not made the slightest effort to do any 'writing,' merely putting down things as she would have said them, though of course she did give her opinions sometimes and, oddly enough, everybody seemed to find these opinions very funny."

development. Would he do more of these, do you think? We've four stories by the same author, all built about the girl character who figures in this—"

Eve made a rapid calculation of the number of drawings in the portfolio and said she was sure Mr. Wilmer would illustrate all four stories. And it was not until she was on her way home that she thought to wonder, rather breathlessly, what would happen when Ken saw the issue of "Artistry" with the nudes of Puss.

She felt reasonably safe about him missing the sketches she had put that aside and would not be likely to seek it for a while.

And now she had time to listen to the nagging question. Why had Ken hidden the sketches? What was it he wished to keep her from believing about Puss Southwick and himself?

By the time the third Revela-

They were sketches of Puss.

tions appeared in Wade's Weekly the whole tribe believed that Puss was doing the series.

"And she's such a quiet little thing—inspired, almost," Elma decided. "You'd hardly think it of her. Though she's never actually admitted it of course. Still it may be she's clever."

Eve never heard this sort of talk without feeling a quick uprush of anger that had swept her the night Ken came home from Springfield and grinned over his great discovery.

"What do you think, red-head? The kid is writing that stuff for Wade's."

"WHAT? Did Puss Southwick say that?"

"Oh, she didn't exactly say it. But we were talking and I made a guess that the author wasn't a thousand miles from where we were and she got all red and said she wouldn't want anything she did to embarrass her friends—you know, as much as to imply that she couldn't come right out and claim the stuff. She's a smart youngster, all right."

"Ken Wilmer—of all the woolly-headed! Puss Southwick writing anything—oh, anything at all! Of course she won't claim Revelations; she's not such a complete fool. 'Smart youngster'—oh, my gosh!"

Ken was dignified and superior. "Really, Eve, aren't you going rather far? It isn't like you, being jealous of someone else's success."

"Jealous?" she blazed. "Sure sounds that way. I suppose you know that artist's wife stuff is the sensation of the year. I heard at the Wade publications office the other day that they're

"SHEIK'S WIFE"

BY WINIFRED VAN DUZER

CHAPTER XXXIII.

EVE also neglected to see that Ken's work got out on time and, what with editors telephoning and writing hurry calls—even threatening to smash contracts—Ken grew nervous and irritable and took to drinking more cocktails than was good for him.

It was after one of these hurry calls from "Artistry," a high-class and high-priced magazine whose recognition Ken long had coveted and which he had played fast and loose with now that it had given him a chance, that Eve went searching frantically through his desk. He was illustrating a story for them and she knew about what the drawings would be—crayon sketches of feminine beauty—but she could find nothing remotely suggesting what she sought.

Eventually she came upon a portfolio thrust behind a stack of work at the back of his desk as if it had reposed there for a long time and been forgotten, though the envelope was one of a new lot. Puzzled and curious she opened this and found it stuffed with a dozen unfinished sketches. And she understood why they had been tucked away. They were sketches of Puss—idealized, of course, but Puss nevertheless—all nudes, Ken had not forgotten the portfolio; he had hidden it.

She whispered "Well"—and realized that her palms were damp. Why had Ken taken such trouble to keep this out of her sight? Any artist might do pictures like these—they were very lovely, really; it was all impersonal, all in the day's work. Yet Ken had felt embarrassed about them, guilty perhaps. Why?

Her brain was in a whirl. She never had doubted Ken—she had determined that she never would—but now a question kept nagging at her thought, sending a sick mistrust into her heart. If only he had not been sly, hiding these away.

Through the confusion Eve remembered the reason for her search. "Artistry" was waiting; unless the illustrations were in by morning they would have to cancel the arrangement with Mr. Wilmer, the art editor had told her. Now she studied these sketches.

They were not meant for "Artistry" indeed she doubted if Ken had meant them for publication at all. But they might be used to illustrate the story. They would be considered futuristic, their unfinished state suggesting a subtle humor, a line here and space there appealing to the imagination. They were vivid and entertaining.

Making up her mind suddenly, Eve wrapped some of the things and by managing a hasty toilet caught the afternoon train into the city.

She visited the art editor and offered the sketches with a convincing air. And the editor, a youngish and highly capable appearing woman, was first amazed and then interested.

"I shall have to talk it over with the fiction editor," she explained. "This is so different from Mr. Wilmer's usual work."

development. Would he do more of these, do you think? We've four stories by the same author, all built about the girl character who figures in this—"

Eve made a rapid calculation of the number of drawings in the portfolio and said she was sure Mr. Wilmer would illustrate all four stories. And it was not until she was on her way home that she thought to wonder, rather breathlessly, what would happen when Ken saw the issue of "Artistry" with the nudes of Puss.

She felt reasonably safe about him missing the sketches she had taken from the portfolio; he had put that aside and would not be likely to seek it for a while.

And now she had time to listen to the nagging question. Why had Ken hidden the sketches? What was it he wished to keep her from believing about Puss Southwick and himself?

By the time the third Revela-

"Oh, she didn't exactly say it these, do you think? We've four stories by the same author, all built about the girl character who figures in this—"

Ken Wilmer—of all the woolly heads! Puss Southwick writing anything—oh, anything at all! Of course she won't claim Revelations; she's not such a complete fool. "Smart youngster—oh, my gosh!" Ken was dignified and superior. "Really, Eve, aren't you going rather far? It isn't like you, being jealous of someone else's success."

"Jealous!" she blazed. "Sure sounds that way. I suppose you know that artist's wife stuff is the sensation of the year. I heard at the Wade publications office the other day that they're

They were sketches of Puss.

tions appeared in Wade's Weekly the whole tribe believed that Puss was doing the series.

"And she's such a quiet little thing—inspired, almost," Elma decided. "You'd hardly think it of her. Though she's never actually admitted it of course. Still it may be she's clever."

Eve never heard this sort of talk without feeling a quick uprush of anger that had swept her the night Ken came home from Springfield and grinned over his great discovery.

"What do you think, red-head? The kid is writing that stuff for Wade's."

"WHAT? Did Puss Southwick say that?"

bringing it out in book form as soon as it's finished running serially."

And now Eve could only gasp "Oh!" and wonder if this were true. What she had done did not seem remarkable to her, not nearly wonderful enough to cause so much interest. She had followed Barton Wade's suggestion and had not made the slightest effort to do any "writing," merely putting down things as she would have said them, though of course she did give her opinions sometimes and, oddly enough, everybody seemed to find these opinions very funny.
